LODGE AND LOWELL IN DEBATE ON QUESTION OF LEAGUE OF NATIONS

Boston, Mar. 20.—Two American gentlemen, United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge and Dr. A. Lawrence Lowell, president of Harvard University, met here last night in a debate on the most momentous question before the world—the League of Nations.

The decision as to the merits of the arguments propounded today lies with the American people. There was no official judge, no referee. The intense interest with which the 3,000 persons who heard the debate listened, indicated a realization that the questions involved in a formation of a league of nations require the serious consideration of every man and woman of the nation. In some respects Senator Lodge and Dr. Lowell agreed to a remarkable degree. The latter argued in favor of the principles of the present covenant, admitting the necessity of clarification and amendments. Senator Lodge objected to the draft in its present form, but declared himself in favor of a league of nations.

Aside from the arguments, whole-hearted sincerity and conviction was apparent in the attitude of both speakers. This was expressed when Senator Lodge, turning to Dr. Lowell said: "We may differ in our methods, but not in our object—the welfare of the United States."

Senator Lodge criticized the present draft as a loosely drawn and crudely worded instrument. Dr. Lowell admitted that there was much of it capable of misinterpretation. Admitting this and the need for several changes and some amendments, Dr. Lowell strongly urged the adoption of the underlying principles of the draft of the league now before the world.

Dr. Lowell declared that the draft is the first experiment in open diplomacy and was submitted as such in the form of an experiment. He said he was sure that there was no intention of adopting the covenant as it now stands; that in their present state the clauses are tentative only and designed to allow the people of the world to consider the question for themselves.

In his criticism of the covenants, Senator Lodge called for a league which would not prevent the United States from following the course of her traditional policies. He urged that the Monroe doctrine be maintained and declared that any league acceptable must leave that doctrine intact.

Senator Lodge asked the mothers, the sisters and the sweethearts of America, if they are willing to guarantee the political independence and territorial integrity of every nation on earth to the extent of sending their loved ones to far corners of the world to maintain these principles.

For a few moments there was silence then some one shouted "yes" which was followed by an overwhelming "no!" from men and women alike.

Senator Lodge summed up his opposition to the draft of the covenant in what he termed "five constructive criticisms, which were in effect that:

First—The instrument should be re-drafted. It should mention what vote necessary to pass on every subject contained in the covenant and worded so that all may understand it.

Second—Ambiguous phrases should be eliminated.

Third—Should contain larger restrictions of Monroe doctrine.

Fourth—International questions of immigration should be excluded.

Fifth—League should be definite as to when and under what conditions it can be abrogated.

EMERGENCY FEATURE OF CRABBE BILL IS DEFEATED IN HOUSE

Columbus, March 20.—It was assured today, after the decisive manner in which the house voted down the emergency feature of the Crabbe prohibition enforcement bill yesterday evening, that the bill itself will go to a referendum vote of the people next November.

After claiming for days that they had the necessary two-thirds of the house lined up for the emergency clause, the dyes could only get 69 votes to 48 against it. They needed 83.

The bill itself went through with a whoop, 100 to 16.

The Ohio Anti Saloon League was determined today to try once more for a two-thirds vote in the house in the event the bill gets a two-thirds senate vote for the emergency feature. "If the emergency clause fails altogether we are ready to meet the liquor interests in a state-wide referendum fight on the bill itself," said James A. White, state superintendent.

"It is a fair bill, as it passed the house, and we think the people, after going from May 27 until November without any adequate law to enforce state-wide prohibition, will be so sick of the tactics of the liquor people that they'll be for the relief offered by the Crabbe bill."

On the other hand, the liberals, through L. H. Gibson, manager of the Ohio Home Rule Association, professed to believe that public sentiment is switching back to their side.

Gibson gave out a statement saying the people had discovered that the Crabbe bill seeks to build up "a great political machine under the guise of law enforcement officials and bureaus," and that the people would turn the Crabbe measure down at the polls in November.

Crabbe, author of the bill, charged the defeat of the emergency clause to the democrats.

"There is no question," said Crabbe, "but that Gov. Cox used all his influence to defeat the emergency clause." Crabbe added he understood Cox has a bill of his own to have passed as an emergency. He said he would support it if it is not a "make-shift," and is sufficient to "carry out the will of the people and provide it is effective May 27, the day Ohio goes dry."

Nearly four hours of oratory preceded the vote on the Crabbe bill. The dyes were strong enough to adopt easily some 125 amendments that Crabbe himself offered and to prevent the adoption of many amendments offered by others that Crabbe didn't approve.

BOLSHEVIKI FORCES DEFEATED BY ALLIES

London, March 20.—Bolshevik forces were defeated in an attack on the allied positions south of Archangel, it was announced in an official communique received here today.

"The Bolsheviks attacked Morjeorskaya, 130 miles south of Archangel," said the communique, dated March 15. "They were repulsed, leaving five wounded prisoners, 57 dead and many wounded and six machine guns in our hands."

LITTLE IDAHO TOWN COMPETES WITH NEW YORK FOR BIG FIGHT

Pocatello Idaho, March 20.—With characteristic western enterprise, Pocatello has started in to outbid New York for the Willard-Dempsey championship fight.

The last census rated Pocatello at 15,000. But Pocatello has opened the bidding at $160,000, and has posted $50,000 of this sum with Charles Summer of the Pocatello Tribune.

If the New York territory insists on trying to compete with Pocatello for the fight this city may raise the ante to a quarter million, J. J. Robb Brady told the United Press today.

In fact Pocatello—and Brady speaks for the city—insists that the fight be held here, where 20 rounds are possible and has gone so far as to tell Tex Rickard as much over long distance telephone.

POMERENE AGAINST RAILWAY CONTROL

Chicago, Mar. 20.—A five years experiment by the government in handling the railroads was scored by Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio in a speech to railway men here last night.

Senator Pomerene declared against any extension of government control. Although, he said the experiment has been successful, he declared the conditions were abnormal.

"Government control was intended for war purposes and it should not be extended to peace times," said Pomerene.

MME. PADEREWSKI TELLS OF HORRORS

Chicago, Mar. 20.—"I must hold my heart with both my hands for fear it will burst from pain," wrote Mme. Helena Paderewski, wife of the Polish premier, to President Smulski, of the National Polish department here.

"There is misery here and famine," her letter said. "The Polish army is hungry, without shoes and without cloaks in zero weather. Our enemies commit the most horrible atrocities. Some of the women taken prisoners were impaled on pikes. So were six nuns who were then removed and hurled into a heap to die slowly."

WHEN OPPRESSED HUNGARY PROCLAIMED ITSELF A REPUBLIC

Auto load of revolutionists dashing through street celebrating formation of republic and crowds listening to President Károlyi, at right on steps.

The fact that no word has been received recently concerning any trouble in the newly formed republic of Hungary would indicate that the new nation is working out its future satisfactorily to most of the people. The pictures above, which have just arrived in the United States, were taken during the formation of the republic. The lower photo shows how the revolutionists, in their delight over the overturning of the old monarchial regime, commandeered autos and every other kind of vehicle to celebrate the coming of democracy.

SCHLESINGER AND PRICE BOTH PRESENT AT BRIBE HEARING

Columbus, Mar. 20.—Both Attorney General Price and County Prosecutor Hugo Schlesinger sat in with the legislative bribery probe committee when the first session was held today.

Price cautioned the probers they must be exceedingly careful and not to give any immunity baths to any legislators or lobbyists who might later be implicated in alleged bribery deals.

"You must remember," Price said, "that any person who testifies before you becomes immune to prosecution itself. There might be persons who would seek to testify before you whose real object would be to escape possible prosecution."

Price's invitation to the committee to meet in the Attorney General's office was accepted because of the lack of a suitable meeting place about the legislature.

When the probers went into executive session to outline preliminary plans they excluded Schlesinger from the room but permitted Price to remain in conference with them. After a few minutes they sent out for Schlesinger and both he and the official stenographer were admitted.

ANTI-BOLSHEVIKI MOVEMENT HAS STARTED IN RUSSIA

Copenhagen, March 20.—The Lithuanian information bureau announced today that new strong anti-Bolshevik movement has begun in that part of Russia, at present under Soviet domination.

It is said to be led by a group known as the Independent Communist party. The bureau declared it is well represented at the front and that many cities have joined the movement, including Kila.

In the latter place, the new party is publishing a newspaper, which says: "The Bolsheviks must cease their warfare and the soldiers must return home. If they are not permitted to do so, they must return without permission."

REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC PAPERS SUPPORT WORLD LEAGUE

BY VICTOR McNAUGHT.
St. Louis, March 20.—It is my purpose to tell as briefly as possible the state of public sentiment on the proposed League of Nations, as I found it on talking with business men, farmers, professional men, artisans, and editors on a visit to nearly all the principal cities between New York and St. Louis. This is what I learned:

1. The bitterness, amounting almost to violence of expression, which characterizes the debate in the east, is lacking in the central and middle western states.

2. In these parts, neither the president on the one hand, nor the opposing senators, on the other, are wholly condemned. Nearly all of the principals in the discussion are given credit for patriotic and high-minded purposes.

3. The great masses of the people are for the League of Nations, as proposed, with the best of the amendments that have been suggested by Senator Lodge and former President Taft.

4. The only sure way to make the League generally acceptable to the American people is to amend it. Nearly all thoughtful persons wish to preserve the Monroe Doctrine, to limit America's police activities so far as possible to the western hemisphere, to be sure that America cannot be dragged into a foreign war against the popular will, and to see that the League constitution is drafted in terms so plain that there can be no misunderstanding as to their meaning.

5. The good will and kindly feeling of the great mass of American people for the British, the French, and the allies, may be taken for granted.

6. There is a rapidly growing disposition to regard the League project as a non-partisan issue, and to consider it without reference to President Wilson's part in drafting it.

It is an interesting fact that the League program is receiving a large measure of its most intelligent support from Republicans and Independent Republican newspapers. The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, for example, one of the most popular of old-line party papers, is strongly behind the League. The Chicago Daily News, which supported Judge Hughes for presidency in 1916, is pro-League. The Indianapolis News, an influential conservative newspaper, advocates the adoption of the League program, with the best of the Lodge amendments. So do the Philadelphia Inquirer, a Republican newspaper, and the Philadelphia Public Ledger, one of the foremost exponents of sane and substantial American thought.

Mr. Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, said: "The League is coming, and we are supporting it. The president was wrong in his treatment of the senate, and the senators cannot be blamed for resenting his methods. Senator Lodge's suggestions must be considered."

This is the opinion of Mr. Richard Smith, editor of the Indianapolis News: "The League is in popular favor, because it aims to end war. The people are sick of war, and this plan is favored by their sentiment. How can you argue against a popular emotion? It cannot be done. We are disposed to give the highest credit to Senators Lodge, Knox and others like them for all of their suggestions as to changes and amendments, but we do not countenance the opposition of senators and others who were against the war, and who obstructed the government in carrying on the war."

There is a marked difference in the popular attitude toward Senators Lodge and Knox on the one hand, and Senators Reed, Borah and Poindexter on the other. There is little sympathy for the latter group. An editorial paragraph in a Detroit paper sums up the sentiment thus: "Senator Borah has started out to stump the country against the League of Nations. Senator Borah is worth seeing."

The St. Louis Times, a Republican paper, and the only newspaper in St. Louis to oppose the League, printed a day or two ago two columns of interviews with thirty-eight citizens. Thirty favored the League, and eight opposed. About half of the thirty said that anything the President wanted was good enough for them. The other half advocated the League constitution, with amendments.

The business and professional men of a small Ohio city gathered at their club to hear the League plan explained by an expert, who expressed no personal view. After his talk, a vote was taken. It favored the League by a ratio of seven to one. Nearly all the men present were Republicans.

LEGISLATOR "DADS" OF SOLDIERS ARE TO FORM COMMITTEE

Columbus, March 20.—Legislator "dads" of boys in the 37th division today were packing their "Sunday" clothes in their old kit bags and smiling.

For—They're going down to New York and Newport News with Governor Cox and Lieutenant Governor Brown Friday to extend the official welcome of Ohio to the 37th division and their own sons.

Both houses of the general assembly late yesterday adopted a resolution by Senator Holden, of Warren county, appointing a special joint committee to accompany the governor to New York.

In naming the committee, Senator Holden asked that the members in both branches who have sons in the 37th division be selected and sent east at the expense of the state.

The committee will consist of Senators Tom Jones, William Miller, O. A. Wagner, Thomas Berry and Representatives John Ownes, Milton Clark and R. B. Carson.

REAL RELIGION

Chicago, March 20.—Arthur D. Millard, a laborer, today gave $850, his life savings to the Armenian Relief Fund.

LEAGUE OF NATIONS COVENANT WILL BE READY BY SATURDAY

Paris, March 20.—The league of nations covenant, as it will be incorporated in the preliminary peace treaty will be practically completed Saturday, according to general belief today.

On that day the committee which drew up the constitution will hold its first meeting since the initial draft was finished. President Wilson will preside at the session, which will be called at ten o'clock.

The league committee will follow a series of conferences regarding the constitution. Suggestions from neutrals regarding changes and amendments, were to be received today.

Informal talks will also be held by various conferees, in which the President and Colonel House will represent the United States. The delegates have been going over the causes of the covenant, with a view to meeting the suggestions and criticisms advanced by the American senate. It was admitted today that amendments which will take into consideration these criticisms and at the same time not tread on the toes of other powers—which would likely counter with further amendments—are being found difficult.

Baron Makino, Japanese member of the league committee, has made clear that he agrees with the sentiments expressed by Viscount Ishii, Ambassador to the United States in a recent speech at New York. Ishii urged incorporation in the covenant of an article prohibiting racial discrimination. Makino emphasized that racial matters could be considered independently of immigration question while the other is a question of sentiment and pride.

Some of the committees have virtually completed their work on problems to be incorporated in the preliminary treaty are now considering subjects which will form a part of the final settlement.

The commission on aerial problems has agreed to the general principles of control for aerial navigation but has appointed three sub-committees which will work out the details. An important feature of the commission's work is recognition of full and absolute jurisdiction by each state of the air above its territory and territorial matters.

PROBE COMMITTEE READY FOR WORK

Columbus, March 20.—The legislative probe committee today was ready to begin its work of digging into the heart of the alleged bribe scandal in the Ohio general assembly.

Rev. Frank Delafanty, former Cleveland American League baseball player, was to be among the first witnesses called to testify, according to the committee.

Attorney General Price and Prosecutor Schlesinger will have representatives at the hearing.

Newspaper correspondents expected to be called before the probers to tell what they know about alleged bribery transactions in the legislature.

MORE WATER WILL NOT BE NEEDED

Cleveland, March 20.—No preparations are being made to increase the supply of city water after Ohio goes dry in May.

"There'll be no noticeable increase in the demand of drinkable water when the state goes dry," said Health Commissioner Rockwood today. "Men don't drink at bars because they are thirsty. Many take a glass of water with it anyway."

THESE ARE BUSY HENS.

MURDER CHARGE IS PLACED AGAINST HILLSBORO MAN

Hillsboro, O., March 20.—Homer Barnes, motion picture theater proprietor, has been formally charged with the murder of his wife, whose body, with the head almost severed, was found in a room at her home Tuesday.

When the charge was filed, Barnes made no statement, maintaining the same reticence that has characterized his behavior since his arrest a few hours after the murder, when he was found hiding in a hay stack. The body of Mrs. Barnes was taken to Washington C. H.

Later it was learned that Barnes made a statement.

"We had a 'fuss' and I remember throwing a razor on the floor or on the couch," Barnes said. "I do not remember slashing my wife's throat. I do not remember the thing that caused it all. I heard her scream and the next thing I knew I was disposing of a razor."

Barnes was taken before Mayor Wilkins for preliminary hearing tonight and was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of first degree murder.

Barnes was highly nervous Wednesday. Sheriff Henry Ervin and two physicians, Dr. J. C. Larkin and Dr. Morris Hoyt, questioned him. He told them that he remembers nothing that happened subsequently to or briefly prior to the murder of his wife.

ALLEGED MURDERER OF WIFE ARRESTED

New York, March 20.—Walter K. Wilkins, accused of murdering his wife at their Long Beach summer home, is at detective headquarters here today, awaiting arrival of police from the Nassau county district attorney's office, who will conduct him to the scene of the crime.

Wilkins was arrested at the Pennsylvania station here immediately after purchasing a ticket for Mineola. He had shaved off his side whiskers, but was recognized by a citizen who called the attention of a policeman.

He readily admitted his identity, but stoutly asserted his innocence of murdering his wife.

District Attorney Weeks of Nassau county issued orders that Wilkins was to talk to no one about the crime, not even his lawyer, until questioned by the Long Island authorities.

A hypodermic needle and some white pills were found in Wilkins' pockets and were taken by the police, despite his plea that he be allowed to keep them.

AMERICANS MAY WEAR WELCOME OUT IN FRANCE

Washington, March 20.—American soldiers in France "are in danger of wearing their 'welcome out' and should be brought home with all possible speed, Rep. Alvan Fuller, Massachusetts, declared in a statement made public today.

"The French people" said Fuller, "have on innumerable occasions told me they were glad the Americans came, but two million Americans in France boosts the cost of living for the French and makes food scarce and the presence of foreigners is more of a hindrance than a help."

"It would be impossible for me to over-estimate the desire of the American boys to come home."

Is the most profitable farming—by careful management, 25 acres will produce as much as 40 acres under the old plan. The land is the same—the difference is in the way it is handled.

The same principle applies to money—first mortgages on real estate pay six per cent. But the cost of handling and the delays in investing vary from one to three per cent, and the difference is the amount of interest paid to depositors in financial institutions.

By keeping all of our money at work all of the time and because of the economy in handling Six Million Dollars in one office, we are able to provide the very best security and still pay five per cent to depositors.

MERCHANDISE VALUED AT $2,500 STOLEN FROM THE HUTCHISON & GIBNEY STORE

Effecting an entrance by forcing a window lock in the engine room of the Hutchison & Gibney department store sometime Wednesday night, burglars perpetrated a wholesale robbery of over $2,500 worth of dry goods and ten dollars in cash which was stolen from the cash register.

The robbers were evidently versed in the dry goods business and they picked only the best quality of merchandise, including the best silk waists, new silk dresses, crepe de chine combinations, corset covers, and some jewelry. A number of these silk waists and dresses had just come in Wednesday and were placed on the shelves that day.

On the second floor of the department store, the robbers stripped the mahogany cases containing the best silk waists and picked unerringly the high priced silk waists from the cases which also contained cotton waists. The store is practically rid of all its black silk waists not a one being left on the shelves. New silk foulard dresses worth $45 a piece were included in the booty. The dresses were just put in stock Wednesday. Waists taken average $6 apiece with some of them valued as high as $15. There were 128 silk waists missing in the immediate invoice taken by Mr. Gibney Thursday morning. Over 32 silk dresses were stolen, valued at an average of $32 apiece, with many of them running higher than this amount.

A small amount of jewelry, mostly rings and lockets, was taken also, and was the only goods missing from the first floor, the rest of the booty being taken from the second floor.

The basement department, also, was not disturbed, nor were the stock rooms in the annex.

The robbers pried the drawer off of the cash register in the office on the mezzanine floor and then carried it to the second floor, where it was found in the middle of the floor broken up. The small change had been removed from the money rolls in the front of the store. A box of safety matches, evidently used by the robbers to find their way around, since they turned out all the lights in the store, was the only thing left behind them.

The robbery was discovered by Bert Moore, engineer in the store power plant, when he came to work at 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning, and he immediately notified Mr. Gibney, who communicated with the police.

The robbers used a jimmy to pry open the engine room window, then they found their way up the winding stairway to the second floor, apparently without difficulty. On the second floor, they effected an entrance to the store, prying by cutting the glass from the connecting door and turning the key after an attempt to jimmy the door had failed. Once in the store the robbers worked swiftly but carefully, picking only the best quality goods and the pricier sizes. The fact that they picked quality and sizes so carefully led some to believe that there was a woman among the robbers, but it is at least convincing that the robbers knew the business.

Investigation by Mr. Gibney Thursday morning, found the silk waist cases empty, shelves that had been filled with new silk waists, Wednesday empty, the broken cash register in the middle of the second floor, and the empty waist and dress boxes piled in a huge pile in front of the elevator entrance on this floor. About fifteen or twenty dresses were found in the corset fitting room on the second floor where they had been carried by the robbers. The fact that it would take three men to carry the cash register up stairs led to the belief that there were several of the robbers.

The robbery here seems to be one of a series which has been going the round of Ohio cities. Department store robbers have visited Cleveland recently and Tuesday night they robbed a store of $10,000 worth of goods at Lorain. A similar store robbery also occurred at London recently.

Chief Canaday is now working on several clues and he has hope of rounding up the wholesale robbers before they can get rid of the goods.

AIPLANE THAT WAS TO HAVE BOMBED THIS CITY HAS ACCIDENT

Lieutenant Bernard O. Tyler, chief flying officer of the Fairfield aviation field and Lieutenant Waldron, a companion, narrowly escaped serious injury when they jumped from an army airplane which caught fire as they were beginning a flight from the Hamilton County Golf Club grounds, in Cincinnati, Wednesday.

Lieutenant Tyler sustained a cut over his right eye. Lieutenant Waldron jumped from the machine and rolled clear of the flames. The machine, a Curtiss bi-plane, valued at $12,000 was destroyed.

The two officers alighted on the golf grounds at 2 P. M., and filled the gasoline tank as a preliminary to circling over the city and dropping hundreds of rubber balls, painted in red, white and blue, containing the words, "War Stamp Campaign."

After "bombing" the city they were to have continued their flight to Hillsboro and Portsmouth on a similar mission.

An hour after their arrival in Cincinnati, Lieutenant Tyler prepared for his flight and started the machine, but the wet, soft ground hindered the "run" and prevented the airplane from rising. Lieutenant Tyler was unable to stop the machine in time to keep it from going over an embankment at the end of the "run."

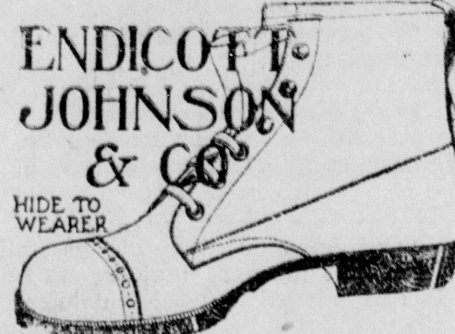

The airplane overturned on the embankment and almost instantly was enveloped in flames. While there was no explosion, it is believed the gasoline was ignited by a spark from the ignition system. Both men were able to jump instantly as they were not strapped in their seats.

The accident is the second to befall the airmen in their trip to Cincinnati to boost the war stamp drive. They were due to arrive Monday, but engine trouble developed when they were near Hamilton, and they were forced to alight there.

Lieutenant Tyler was to have flown over Xenia, Thursday, bombing the city with rubber balls advertising the war stamp campaign.

Whether or not the accident will stop the rest of the flight has not been learned.

BEAUTY SECRETS!

Where she gets her good looks, her healthy skin, her pink cheeks, is known to every one.

because it is apparent that it is not due to cosmetics, paint and powder. But the true womanly beauty comes from good health, and this good health is a woman's secret.

Health comes with good physical machinery and good spirits, an active digestion. A body free from pains and aches comes with a tonic known for over fifty years as the best "temperance" tonic and nerve for woman—namely, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It can be obtained in any drug store in liquid or tablet form, or sent 10c to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y.

Cleansing of the intestinal tract is important. Take castor oil or select a vegetable pill. Such a one is composed of May-apple, leaves of aloe, root of jalap, and made into tiny sugar coated pellets, to be had at every drug store as Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

VEHICLE OWNERS MUST GET LICENSES

The attention of vehicle drivers is called to the fact that the time of grace on vehicle licenses is already 20 days expired, the time ending on March 1.

While 20 days have elapsed since that time there are still a number of drivers of vehicles who have not secured their licenses, and they will be prosecuted severely in police court.

Police have been advised to bring in all offenders and they will be given the limit in police court.

The police department has orders to handle the offenders "rough shod."

SKATERS MUST BE MORE CAREFUL OR STAY OFF STREETS

City Manager Riddle is issuing an order to roller skaters who are using the city streets to be more careful or an order prohibiting skating on the street will have to be issued.

The young people skating on the streets do not stay on the sidewalk but persist in skating in the middle of the street, hanging on the wagons in some cases, and this skating on the street is a dangerous practice. If the children are not more careful an order prohibiting the use of the streets for skating will be issued by the city administration and enforced by the police.

HURRAH, HURRAH—LET US HAVE "THE CITY BEAUTIFUL."

While Benjamin Harrison was President of the United States he made one long trip, as we say "swung around the circle," from Washington City to San Francisco and return. During this trip he made, as shown in a small volume record of it which was published, one hundred different speeches, at one hundred different places, and most singular of all on one hundred different subjects. That is, no two of these speeches alike, in scarcely any particular. It takes a smart man to do a thing of that kind. And we remember very distinctly that the one he made in Xenia related wholly to suggestions relative to things of a local nature—hints, recommendations, advice, all of which taken together meant things that would make Xenia a desirable place to live, and of which its citizens would be proud. That was a good speech on a very good subject.

And, by the way, that is the subject we started to talk about when we commenced this article—things of a local nature. We have all been talking so long, four years now, about world matters, until we have become familiar with things "over there," and perhaps know our geography of Europe better than we do that of America—so it is better to get back home in vision.

You noticed the three column advertisement, a few days ago, about the special election we are to have relative to the issue of Xenia city bonds to the amount of $25,000 to meet the city's share in the matter of the extensive street paving project upon which we are about to enter. Of course you know that the property owners pay for the street paving adjoining their property, but the city proper has to pay its part for the cost for street connections, where no property adjoins, and it is for this expense that the city will need this $25,000—perhaps 15 or 20 per cent of the whole cost. It is to give the city the money to pay its share for this work that you are asked to vote for this bond issue.

We are proud of the amount of street paving we already have. We don't want to be an old "stick in the mud" city. We want to be enterprising. We want to aspire to be a "City Beautiful." We want to have visitors, when they return home, speak of "that handsome city of Xenia." It costs no more to live in a pretty town than in an ugly one. And is much more comfortable.

The City Manager says it now costs the city more to keep up the streets which are to be paved than will the interest on the money to be borrowed. The word everywhere is make jobs for the returning soldier boys. Let us do our share. Besides, nearly all the money spent for the labor will remain in town—will be spent in our stores and shops. Good thing—will spend the money and still have it. Let us do it.

Before undertaking any enterprise, weigh the consequences. If the advantage outweighs the disadvantage, it is cowardice to neglect it. The advantage in this proposition is to give us a city of which we all will be proud. Let us do it.

Hurrah for good old Xenia. Xenia excels in many things. Let us excel in street paving. Vote for the bond issue.

JUDGE KYLE HEARS HAAS CASE WHICH OPENS THURSDAY

Chardon, March 20—Samuel T. Haas, Cleveland attorney, went on trial here today charged with arson.

It is alleged Haas burned a farm house and two barns near here several years ago.

Charles H. Kyle, common pleas judge of Greene county, presided at the trial.

W. L. Day and W. D. Wilkin, special state prosecutors, who are investigating crime conditions in Cleveland, conditions in Cleveland, were on hand when the trial opened today. They will aid J. H. Thrasher, Geauga county prosecutor, who will be in direct charge of the prosecution.

GOOD HOUSEKEEPERS USE BEST Blue. All leading grocers, 5 cents. That's why they use Red Cross Ball.

CONGRESS WOMEN.

Janette Rankin, the Montana congresswoman, is one of the "lame ducks" of the last campaign, if one may be pardoned so ungallant a phrase. Miss Rankin need not feel bad about it, however. Though she may not have covered herself with any particular glory, she certainly showed as much ability as the average congresswoman, and was probably above the average in conscientious devotion to her duty.

If there is anything to be learned from her experience, it is that women are just as liable as men to suffer from the vagaries of political fortune. Politics always was a precarious business. Women thinking of adopting it as a profession may as well recognize it. An office is less dependable than a husband.

As for the return of congress to 100 per cent masculinity, the woman-haters need take no satisfaction from that. It will not last long. There may soon be a crowd of women in congress. And the men will treat them with the same respectful consideration they gave to Miss Rankin, and everybody will take them as a matter of course, and everything will run along pretty much the same as before—except that some kinds of legislation, especially that affecting women and children, will be handled more intelligently, and about half the population of the country will be better satisfied.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA HEARS GOSSIP OF BLANCHE AND NEIL. CHAPTER XL.

Naturally, I was immensely relieved that Neil had not been with Blanche Orton, yet I knew that in some way Payne Orton's death had been the cause of his excitement, also of his remaining out all night. I wanted to question him, but feared to anger him and so waited until after he had finished his dinner and was smoking his cigar in the library.

"Aren't you going to tell me where you were last night, Neil? I was terribly worried. I didn't sleep a wink. You ran off without a word, you remember."

"I was attending to business at the club until late. Then I was so tired I turned in there. I had to see a man there very early."

"Business that Mr. Orton's death made necessary?"

"Yes," he frowned. "Can't you explain what it was to me, dear? I have been so anxious."

"No—you wouldn't understand—and talking does no good." The same old excuse, and one with which I never could feel satisfied; that I wouldn't understand.

How did he know that I wouldn't? Never had he given me a chance to try.

Payne Orton's funeral was to be strictly private. But I knew Neil had sent Blanche Orton orchids, because the day after was the first of the month and the bill for them came that morning.

I saw little of Neil in those days following the death of Payne Orton. I was not very well, and so remained more closely at home than usual. Yet, in a way, I did not think of him as being with her. As far as I knew, Neil never had told me an untruth; and if he had not gone to her the night of her trouble, what right had I to think he was with her now? But that he was terribly anxious and worried, was plainly to be seen.

Then came the day when Lorraine Morton disturbed what peace of mind I had. It was a dismal, rainy afternoon, and she said that she knew I would be depressed, so she had dropped everything to run over and cheer me up.

Lorraine meant well, but as I have said she was inclined to gossip.

We chatted about various things, then she spoke of Mr. Orton's death. "I'll bet Blanche was relieved. Of course it must have been a shock, but I don't think she cared a button for him. She never has acted as if she did, anyway."

"Why did she marry him, do you suppose? Neil says it is she who has the money, so it couldn't have been that."

"I guess she wanted 'Mrs.' on her calling cards so she could do as she pleased." Then she quoted: "Oh, for a love for a year, a week, a day—That's Blanche Orton."

"She's fickle, then?"

"Notoriously so—when she was young. They say she was engaged to half a dozen men before she settled down and married Payne Orton."

"But she did settle down."

"After a fashion,—yes. But, Bab, if I were you I would keep Neil away from her if I could. It was bad enough for them to be seen together so much before; but people will surely say he is in love with her if they are intimate now. And they might say that was the reason Payne was so careless of his health that he went off suddenly, as he did."

She had given voice to the thought which had come to me, when I heard he was dead, but which I had forgotten.

"Nonsense!" I replied, but I felt myself growing pale.

"It isn't nonsense, Bab," she said as she rose to go. "And if I weren't so fond of you I'd never mention it. But I saw Neil going there yesterday. I was calling next door, on Mrs. Tenny, and although I remained an hour, Neil was still with Blanche when I left. Watch out for her, Bab!"

"God deliver us from our gossiping friends," I moaned, the tears starting. I had almost ceased thinking of Blanche Orton and Neil—and now this!

When she had gone I sat thinking, wretchedly, about it all. Then my suspicions had been right—Payne Orton had been foolishly careless with his health, of late, and that, perhaps, was the cause of his death? I could remember, now, hearing vague rumors about his drinking to excess, keeping late hours, etc. Had he, then, been unhappy over Blanche's friendship with Neil—so unhappy that he didn't care?

To-morrow—Barbara Is Anxious Because Neil Is Drinking.

La-may Face Powder Stays on Better Than Any Other.

Now you can use a pure face powder that beautifies your complexion wonderfully and is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. And it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starch or rice powder (Poudre de Riz) to make it stick. White lead poisons the skin and rice powder turns into a gluey paste that encourages enlarged pores, blackheads and rice powder pimples. The specialist who makes this improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well, this La-may powder (French, Poudre L'Amie) is now used by over a million American women. The large size is only fifty cents and the trial size is twenty-five cents. Remember, La-may is guaranteed absolutely pure. Five thousand dollars reward is offered any chemist who finds it contains any white lead or rice powder. Refuse substitutes. Your common sense will tell you that when you are offered a substitute it is sure to be a demonstrator trying to sell an inferior powder that pays a big commission. When you use this absolutely pure La-may and see how splendidly it beautifies your complexion, you will understand why it so quickly became the most popular beauty-powder sold in New York. Save this notice.

FIGHTING MEN WERE DISABLED IN CAMPS

Washington, March 20 — Claims presented to the War Risk Insurance Bureau by disabled soldiers show that only a small portion of them were disabled in battle as compared with those remaining in camp.

Of the first 6,396 claims sent into the bureau only one and three-tenths per cent—83 men—received their disabilities in battle, while 68.9 per cent were disabled in camp, either in this country or overseas.

This percentage will, of course, be greatly altered as the men, returning from France, turn in their claims, yet officials of the bureau predict that the majority of claims will come from men disabled while in training. As the soldier becomes more thoroughly trained in the methods of warfare and camp life, the danger of being disabled is lessened, it was pointed out.

"It certainly pays to use the classified columns," said City Manager Riddle, after one insertion of the following ad:—

WANTED—A woman or girl to do house work in small family. Call Kenyon Riddle, Bell phone 957-W. 3-18

"It kept us busy answering the phone, and I can't tell you how many replies we had."

Help is plentiful if you know where to get it. A classified ad solves the difficulty. Get the habit of using these columns for your wants.

Public Sales

Have your sale announced FREE in this column early, so that you may claim your date and others will stay off of it. These ads are run every day and are gratis with the large display advertising. We also furnish sale bills without charge. Let us tell you about it.

PUBLIC SALE—Advertising in the Gazette and Republics bring the crowds. In these days of automobiles the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is notified by the sale date and articles to be offered for sale. It is coming to depend upon these papers the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps in to his auto and hustles to your sale, who pays what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten the crowd off. Use the Gazette and Republics if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising.

PAUL W. STILES BUYS CHARLES SNIDER BAKERY

Charles D. Snider, who for over five years has conducted the Snider Bakery on East Main street, has sold out the business to Paul W. Stiles who will assume the management of the bakery next Monday.

Mr. Stiles is a former newspaper man, formerly being connected with the Columbus Monitor and later the Middletown Journal in the capacity of Circulation Manager. He enlisted in the Navy last summer, and has just been discharged recently and has been in this city. Mrs. Stiles has been connected with the Snider Bakery for five years, working there until the time of her marriage to Mr. Stiles and afterwards when he was in the Navy. She will continue in an official capacity at the bakery under her husband's ownership.

Mr. Snider has been in ill health for some time suffering from rheumatism and he is retiring from active business with the purpose of taking a rest. He took charge of the Snider Bakery five years and eight months ago, removing his family here from Washington C. H., and has since had charge of it.

Mr. Stiles is an energetic and live-wire young man, as was demonstrated by his newspaper career, and he has many friends who wish him success in his new business. The bakery force will be continued practically the same as formerly.

MANY SOLDIERS ASK FOR GOVERNMENT HELP

Washington, March 20—Not every wounded American soldier is entitled to retraining by the Federal Board for Vocational Training. Under the law, the soldier must first have been awarded compensation by the War Risk Insurance Bureau.

To date the Bureau has awarded payments for injuries to only 3,655 men who are now receiving special training, but many thousands more have their applications under consideration by the bureau at this time.

STRONGER MEN TAKE THE LEAD

They Have Nerves of Iron and Real Red Fighting Blood

Vital force is the material from which leaders in all walks of life are made. It is well worth getting and holding.

The health and nerve of the athlete is what Nature intended every man and woman to have.

The blood of an athlete is pure and red, a strong heart pumps and drives it through his body. No wonder that every inch of his system is filled with energy and health, his nerves like iron, spirits high, hard tasks a pleasure and life one song of joy.

A leading Doctor says, "Everyone should feel this way. That if you are not red blooded, are nervous, all run down and on your last legs, for you to build up your blood and nerves with exercise, fresh air, nourishing food and Nature's great prescription, Phosphated Iron a real blood and nerve builder."

He also says, "Phosphated Iron feeds the blood cells with iron and Nerve force, and that leading specialists are now using it successfully all over the country, that it is one of the few remedies that better class doctors can now depend on to produce results."

Special Notice: To insure doctors and their patients getting the Genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only, so do not allow dealers to sell you pills or tablets.

DR. GRANT PERKINS EXPLAINS STATEMENT MADE IN HIS ADDRESS

In my address before the business men of Xenia, I spoke of a possible plan for securing money for Antioch College, and gave a concrete illustration now that it would work. The illustration that I gave was something like this: We would go to a foundation for $100,000; raise another $100,000 in the nation; and come to the local people for another $100,000.

Now I do not mean to say that the illustration I gave of the possible working of a plan, made the $100,000 the local asking. I did mean that the local people would be asked at least a share in such a project. Nor did I mean that the three cities, Xenia, Dayton and Springfield would be asked for one-third of any money that might be raised but that locally if Antioch became an International University under Y. M. C. A. control it would mean that the state of Ohio would be called upon for one-third.

The co-operation of the people who

"BAYER CROSS" ON ASPIRIN

Always Ask for Genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin"

Only Aspirin Tablets with the safety "Bayer Cross" on them are genuine "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin," owned and made by Americans and proved safe by millions of people. Unknown quantities of fraudulent Aspirin Tablets were sold recently by a Brooklyn dealer which proved to be composed mostly of Talcum Powder.

"Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" should always be asked for. Then look for the safety "Bayer Cross" on the package and on each tablet. Accept nothing else! Proper direction and dosage in each Bayer package.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid. adv

HURRAH, HURRAH—LET US HAVE "THE CITY BEAUTIFUL."

While Benjamin Harrison was President of the United States he made one long trip, as we say "swung around the circle," from Washington City to San Francisco and return. During this trip he made, as shown in a small volume record of it which was published, one hundred different speeches, at one hundred different places, and most singular of all on one hundred different subjects. That is, no two of these speeches alike, in scarcely any particular. It takes a smart man to do a thing of that kind. And we remember very distinctly that the one he made in Xenia related wholly to suggestions relative to things of a local nature—hints, recommendations, advice, all of which taken together meant things that would make Xenia a desirable place to live, and of which its citizens would be proud. That was a good speech on a very good subject.

And, by the way, that is the subject we started to talk about when we commenced this article—things of a local nature. We have all been talking so long, four years now, about world matters, until we have become familiar with things "over there," and perhaps know our geography of Europe better than we do that of America—so it is better to get back home in vision.

You noticed the three column advertisement, a few days ago, about the special election we are to have relative to the issue of Xenia city bonds to the amount of $25,000 to meet the city's share in the matter of the extensive street paving project upon which we are about to enter. Of course you know that the property owners pay for the street paving adjoining their property, but the city proper has to pay its part for the cost for street connections, where no property adjoins, and it is for this expense that the city will need this $25,000—perhaps 15 or 20 per cent of the whole cost. It is to give the city the money to pay its share for this work that you are asked to vote for this bond issue.

We are proud of the amount of street paving we already have. We don't want to be an old "stick in the mud" city. We want to be enterprising. We want to aspire to be a "City Beautiful." We want to have visitors, when they return home, speak of "that handsome city of Xenia." It costs no more to live in a pretty town than in an ugly one. And is much more comfortable.

The City Manager says it now costs the city more to keep up the streets which are to be paved than will the interest on the money to be borrowed. The word everywhere is make jobs for the returning soldier boys. Let us do our share. Besides, nearly all the money spent for the labor will remain in town—will be spent in our stores and shops. Good thing—will spend the money and still have it. Let us do it.

Before undertaking any enterprise, weigh the consequences. If the advantage outweigh the disadvantage, it is cowardise to neglect it. The advantage in this proposition is to give us a city of which we all will be proud. Let us do it.

Hurrah for good old Xenia. Xenia excels in many things. Let us excel in street paving. Vote for the bond issue.

JUDGE KYLE HEARS HAAS CASE WHICH OPENS THURSDAY

Chardon, March 20—Samuel T. Haas, Cleveland attorney, went on trial here today charged with arson.

It is alleged Haas burned a farm house and two barns near here several years ago.

Charles H. Kyle, common pleas judge of Greene county, presided at the trial.

W. I. Day and W. D. Wilkin, special state prosecutors, who are investigating crime conditions in Cleveland, conditions in Cleveland, were on hand when the trial opened today. They will aid J. H. Thrasher, Geauga county prosecutor, who will be in direct charge of the prosecution.

CONGRESS WOMEN.

Jeanette Rankin, the Montana congresswoman, is one of the "lame ducks" of the last campaign, if one may be pardoned so ungallant a phrase. Miss Rankin need not feel bad about it, however. Though she may not have covered herself with any particular glory, she certainly showed as much ability as the average congresswoman, and was probably above the average in conscientious devotion to her duty.

If there is anything to be learned from her experience, it is that women are just as liable as men to suffer from the vagaries of political fortune. Politics always was a precarious business. Women thinking of adopting it as a profession may as well recognize it. An office is less dependable than a husband.

As for the return of congress to 100 per cent masculinity, the woman-haters need take no satisfaction from that. It will not last long. There may soon be a crowd of women in congress. And the men will treat them with the same respectful consideration they gave to Miss Rankin, and everybody will take them as a matter of course, and everything will run along pretty much the same as before—except that some kinds of legislation, especially that affecting women and children, will be handled more intelligently, and about half the population of the country will be better satisfied.

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS.

BARBARA HEARS GOSSIP OF BLANCHE AND NEIL. CHAPTER XL.

Naturally, I was immensely relieved that Neil had not been with Blanche Orton, yet I knew that in some way Payne Orton's death had been the cause of his excitement, also of his remaining out all night. I wanted to question him, but feared to anger him and so waited until after he had finished his dinner and was smoking his cigar in the library.

"Aren't you going to tell me where you were last night, Neil? I was terribly worried. I didn't sleep a wink. You ran off without a word, you remember."

"I was attending to business at the club until late. Then I was so tired I turned in there. I had to see a man there very early."

"Business that Mr. Orton's death made necessary?"

"Yes," he frowned.

"Can't you explain what it was to me, dear? I have been so anxious."

"No—you wouldn't understand—and talking does no good." The same old excuse, and one with which I never could feel satisfied; that I wouldn't understand.

How did he know that I wouldn't? Never had he given me a chance to try.

Payne Orton's funeral was to be strictly private. But I knew Neil had sent Blanche Orton orchids, because the day after was the first of the month and the bill for them came that morning.

I saw little of Neil in those days following the death of Payne Orton. I was not very well, and so remained more closely at home than usual. Yet, in a way, I did not think of him as being with her. As far as I knew, Neil never had told me an untruth; and if he had not gone to her the night of her trouble, what right had I to think he was with her now? But that he was terribly anxious and worried, was plainly to be seen.

Then came the day when Lorraine Morton disturbed what peace of mind I had. It was a dismal, rainy afternoon, and she said that she knew I would be depressed, so she had dropped everything to run over and cheer me up.

Lorraine meant well, but as I have said she was inclined to gossip.

We chatted about various things, then she spoke of Mr. Orton's death.

"I'll bet Blanche was relieved. Of course it must have been a shock, but I don't think she cared a button for him. She never has acted as if she did, anyway."

"Why did she marry him, do you suppose? Neil says it is she who has the money, so it couldn't have been that."

"I guess she wanted 'Mrs.' on her calling cards so she could do as she pleased." Then she quoted: "Oh, for a love for a year, a week, a day—That's Blanche Orton."

"She's fickle, then?"

"Notoriously so—when she was young. They say she was engaged to half a dozen men before she settled down and married Payne Orton."

"But she did settle down."

"After a fashion—yes. But, Bab, if I were you I would keep Neil away from her if I could. It was bad enough for them to be seen together so much before; but people will surely say he is in love with her if they are intimate now. And they might say that was the reason Payne was so careless of his health that he went off suddenly, as he did."

She had given voice to the thought which had come to me, when I heard he was dead, but which I had forgotten.

"Nonsense!" I replied, but I felt myself growing pale.

"It isn't nonsense, Bab," she said as she rose to go. "And if I weren't so fond of you I'd never mention it. But I saw Neil going there yesterday. I was calling next door, on Mrs. Tenny, and although I remained an hour, Neil was still with Blanche when I left. Watch out for her, Bab!"

"God deliver us from our gossiping friends," I moaned, the tears starting. I had almost ceased thinking of Blanche Orton and Neil—and now this!

When she had gone I sat thinking, wretchedly, about it all. Then my suspicions had been right—Payne Orton had been foolishly careless with his health, of late, and that, perhaps, was the cause of his death? I could remember, now, hearing vague rumors about his drinking to excess, keeping late hours, etc. Had he, then, been unhappy over Blanche's friendship with Neil—so unhappy that he didn't care?

To-morrow—Barbara is Anxious Because Neil is Drinking.

A good time to economize—Mrs. Austin's delicious Pancake Flour. Three pounds—twenty-five cents.

La-may Face Powder Stays on Better Than Any Other.

Now you can use a pure face powder that beautifies your complexion wonderfully and is guaranteed not to injure the most delicate baby skin. And it really stays on better than any other face powder. It does not contain white lead or starchy rice powder (Poudre de Riz) to make it stick. White lead poisons the skin and rice powder turns into a gluey paste that encourages enlarged pores, blackheads and rice powder pimples. The specialist who makes this improved powder uses a medicinal ingredient that doctors use to heal the skin. In fact, this new powder helps to prevent and reduce enlarged pores and pimples. It is also astringent, discouraging flabbiness, crows' feet and wrinkles. Because it is pure and because it stays on so well, this La-may powder (French, Poudre L'Amo) is now used by over a million American women. The large size is only fifty cents and the trial size is twenty-five cents. Remember, La-may is guaranteed absolutely pure. Five thousand dollars reward is offered any chemist who finds it contains any white lead or rice powder. Refuse substitutes. Your common sense will tell you that when you are offered a substitute it is sure to be a demonstrator trying to sell an inferior powder that pays a big commission. When you use this absolutely pure La-may and see how splendidly it beautifies your complexion, you will understand why it so quickly became the most popular beauty-powder sold in New York. Save this notice.

FIGHTING MEN WERE DISABLED IN CAMPS

Washington, March 20 — Claims presented to the War Risk Insurance Bureau by disabled soldiers show that only a small portion of them were disabled in battle as compared with those remaining in camp.

Of the first 6,396 claims sent into the bureau only one and three-tenths per cent—83 men—received their disabilities in battle, while 68.9 per cent were disabled in camp, either in this country or overseas.

This percentage will, of course, be greatly altered as the men, returning from France, turn in their claims, yet officials of the bureau predict that the majority of claims will come from men disabled while in training. As the soldier becomes more thoroughly trained in the methods of warfare and camp life, the danger of being disabled is lessened, it was pointed out.

PUBLIC SALE advertising in the Gazette and Republican bring the crowds. In these days of automobiles the farmer has no time to stop along the road to read sale bills. He is notified by the sale dates and articles to be offered for sale. It's coming to depend upon these papers the buyer from a distance who sees your ad in this paper, who jumps in to his auto and hustles to your sale, who says what your stuff is worth. Your neighbor no longer can stand around and pick off what he needs at an absurd price, as he does when you have not properly advertised, and gotten a good crowd. Use the Gazette and Republican if you want the worth of everything you offer. Don't try to save on your advertising.

PAUL W. STILES BUYS CHARLES SNIDER BAKERY

Charles D. Snider, who for over five years has conducted the Snider Bakery on East Main street, has sold out the business to Paul W. Stiles who will assume the management of the bakery next Monday.

Mr. Stiles is a former newspaper man, formerly being connected with the Columbus Monitor and later the Middletown Journal in the capacity of Circulation Manager. He enlisted in the Navy last summer, and has just been discharged recently and has been in this city. Mrs. Stiles has been connected with the Snider Bakery for five years, working there until the time of her marriage to Mr. Stiles and afterwards when he was in the Navy. She will continue in an official capacity at the bakery under her husband's ownership.

Mr. Snider has been in ill health for some time suffering from rheumatism and he is retiring from active business with the purpose of taking a rest. He took charge of the Snider Bakery five years and eight months ago, removing his family here from Washington C. H. and has since had charge of it.

Mr. Stiles is an energetic and live-wire young man, as was demonstrated by his newspaper career, and he has many friends who wish him success in his new business. The bakery force will be continued practically the same as formerly.

MANY SOLDIERS ASK FOR GOVERNMENT HELP

Washington, March 20—Not every wounded American soldier is entitled to retraining by the Federal Board for Vocational Training. Under the law, the soldier must first have been awarded compensation by the War Risk Insurance Bureau.

To date the Bureau has awarded payments for injuries to only 3,655 men who are now receiving special training, but many thousands more have their applications under consideration by the bureau at this time.

DR. GRANT PERKINS EXPLAINS STATEMENT MADE IN HIS ADDRESS

In my address before the business men of Xenia, I spoke of a possible plan for securing money for Antioch College, and gave a concrete illustration how that it would work. The illustration that I gave was something like this: We would go to a foundation for $100,000; raise another $100,000 in the nation; and come to the local people for another $100,000.

Now I do not mean to say that the illustration I gave of the possible working of a plan, made the $100,000 the local asking. I did mean that the local people would be asked at least a share in such a project. Nor did I mean that the three cities, Xenia, Dayton and Springfield would be asked for one-third of any money that might be raised but that locally if Antioch became an International University under Y. M. C. A. control it would mean that the state of Ohio would be called upon for one-third. The co-operation of the people who

The blood of an athlete is pure and red, a strong heart pumps and drives it through his body. No wonder that every inch of his system is filled with energy and health, his nerves like iron, spirits high, hard tasks a pleasure and life one song of joy.

A leading Doctor says, "Everyone should feel this way. That if you are not red blooded, are nervous, all run down and on your last legs, for you to build up your blood and nerves with exercise, fresh air, nourishing food and Nature's great prescription, Phosphated Iron a real blood and nerve builder."

He also says, "Phosphated Iron feeds the blood cells with iron and Nerve force, and the leading specialists are now using it successfully all over the country, that it is one of the few remedies that better class doctors can now depend on to produce results."

THREE FIRES OCCUR THURSDAY MORNING

Three alarms in close succession Thursday morning, called the fire department to extinguish a minor blaze in two cases. Accumulated gas in a coal stove at the home of a family named Stevens on Locust street, caused the stove to explode, filling the house with smoke and alarming the household to the extent that an alarm of fire was sent in. The department found no blaze.

Sparks from the chimney set fire to the roof at the home of Mrs. Ella B. Mitchell on East Second street, but the blaze was extinguished after it had burned a small hole in the shingles. While the department was extinguishing this blaze, it was called to the home of E. E. Boxwell on West Second street, near the tobacco factory, where a small fire in the roof burned a few shingles. Prompt action of the firemen prevented serious fires in both cases.

RULES GIVEN OUT FOR CORN CONTEST

Rules for the Men's Ten Acre Corn Contest, conducted by the College of Agriculture, are being sent to the County Agents.

This contest has been conducted for the past two years and the results have been very gratifying.

Men have enrolled in the contest from more than 50 counties. Of the total number who finished the work during the two years, four men have qualified for the "100 Bushel Corn Club of Ohio," by producing 100 or more bushels per acre on the ten acre plot, after being reduced to a uniform moisture content of 20 per cent.

The enrollment promises to be much larger this year than it was last year.

Anyone interested in taking part in this contest can secure a copy of the rules and entry blanks from the county agent, or by writing to the Department of Farm Crops, Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

QUESTION OF WHEN NEAR-BEER BECOMES REAL BEER IS ASKED

Washington, March 20.—Answer to the question of when beer is legally beer and when it may contain 2 3-4 per cent alcohol without being officially considered intoxicating is sought by the internal revenue bureau officials in existing statutes, court decision and administrative regulations, but with no definite conclusion.

Pending a decision by the legal division of the bureau, and an opinion by Attorney General Palmer, Commissioner Roper declined to say what he would do in case New York brewers carry out their announced intention of resuming manufacture and sale of beer containing 2 3-4 per cent alcohol under President Wilson's recent order permitting the making of "near beer."

Internal revenue bureau officials held a number of conferences today at which the subject was discussed. The bureau's legal experts argued that all precedents of acts of congress and of revenue bureau practices point to the rule that if beer contains one-half of one per cent or more alcohol it is intoxicating and is taxable as real beer.

Drinks to be "soft," non-intoxicating, and "non-alcoholic," must contain less than one-half of one per cent alcohol, they said. Therefore, it was argued, that the president's order of last September 16, forbidding the use of grain or other food products in making beer with one-half per cent or more of alcohol.

Commissioner Roper, however, decided to fortify himself fully and arranged to call upon the department of justice for an opinion.

In any event, officials said, the manufacture of beer with more than one-half of one per cent of alcohol is prohibited after May 1 under the food conservation provision act of November, 1918. It was understood that New York brewers, however, did not agree with this view.

The revenue act passed by the last congress increased to $6 a barrel the tax on beer "containing one-half of one per cent or more of alcohol" it also provides for administrative regulations governing production of "non-alcoholic wines, containing less than one-half of one per cent of alcohol." Soft drinks in this act are described as those "containing less than one-half of one per cent."

WAY TO PREVENT OATS FROM SMUT

Wherever tried, the dry or spraying method of treating seed oats for smut prevention has become popular among careful farmers. It is easy, simple, cheap and effective, and no difficulty is experienced in sowing the treated grain.

For fifty bushels of grain one pint of formaldehyde is mixed with one pint of water and applied with an ordinary quart hand sprayer as the grain is being shoveled over. One or two strokes of the handle gives about the right amount but this will depend somewhat upon the sprayer. It is not necessary to use all the solution and there is some danger in putting on too much. The grain should be shoveled over only once in this treatment.

Since the formaldehyde vapor is very irritating, the work should be done in a well aired room. Spraying beneath the grain as it falls will prevent the escape of the vapor to some extent and insure a more thorough distribution throughout the grain.

After the grain has all been treated it should be covered four or five hours, but no longer, with clean canvas or blankets. The sacks in which the grain is to be taken to the field should be sprayed inside and out and covered over in the pile. The seedbox of the drill may also be sprayed with the same solution.

First Wedding Veil.

The first wedding veil was called the "flammeum." It was a large yellow veil that completely covered the Greek and Roman brides during the marriage ceremony. The bridal wreath of orange blossoms, which is the conventional thing today, was introduced into Europe by the Crusaders, and is a Christian substitute for the gilt coronet worn by the Jewish brides.

Ancient Needlework.

The early Britons were expert in needlework, and the earliest (British) Church of England before the fifth century won fame from its "hand-made of the church," who made linens and altar frontals for numberless churches in Europe. Tapestry, the work of queens like Matilda and noble ladies in olden times was largely needlework.

SOUNDS LIKE GOOD OLD DAYS OF THE WILD, WOOLY WEST

BY TOM LEWIS

New York, March 20.—One of the most interesting and significant features in connection with the return of the American fighting man is his keen interest in clean sports of every conceivable kind. Sport-lovers see in this an unprecedented boom in sporting events throughout the United States and Canada.

Huge transports, arriving in New York Harbor almost daily, are bringing back countless thousands of American soldiers and practically every one of these is an out-and-out sport booster. The reason is not far to seek. These men have been living an athletic life such as few of them had ever dreamed of living, and now that they have got a flying start they are eager to keep up the good work.

"These men will go in strong for boxing, wrestling, baseball, football and all kindred sports," said Lieutenant-Colonel Malcolm Andrus, who has just returned from Europe. "Furthermore, the men will want their favorite sports legalized and I am inclined to believe that they will demand Sunday baseball. They fought on Sunday, without complaint, and they will want to know why they cannot witness a game on Sunday if they so desire."

All sports will boom, the speaker added, but he predicted that baseball in particular will enjoy a tremendous impetus when the fighting men get home.

HUGHES BILL TO STOP BIG WASTE OF PUBLIC FUNDS

A million and one-half of dollars for health—and very slight results! This, according to backers of the health district bill, which is before the legislature, is a concise statement of what Ohio spent, through official governmental agencies, for health in 1918 and of what she got for her money.

The reason for the shortage on the credit side of the ledger, say health experts, is that the expenditure was directed in many communities by men with little or no training in public health work.

Efficiency in the use of public funds for health demands heavy emphasis upon preventive work—many of the diseases which form the heaviest burden upon society are known to be largely preventable. Study of the expenditures of local health districts in Ohio, however, shows that, except in the larger cities, almost the entire expenditure was for quarantine. This, according to the State Department of Health, was equivalent to "locking the stable after the horse was stolen"—money spent on preventive and educational work would have reduced the prevalence of disease and lessened the necessity for quarantine.

It is pointed out, for example, that a comparatively small expenditure to provide free vaccination and educate the public in its value would have warded off the smallpox epidemic, which caused enormous quarantine costs in many Ohio communities last year. Likewise, officials declare, effective health supervision in schools and immediate exclusion of sick children would check the spread of such diseases as measles, whooping cough, diphtheria, scarlet fever and infantile paralysis.

It is pointed out that the figure of close to $1,500,000 represents only the actual official expenditures. An estimate of the cost of preventable diseases to individuals in 1917 has been fixed at $142,164,680 in a statement submitted to the legislature by the Health and Old Age Insurance Commission. This cost was computed from the number of deaths and the number of cases of preventable disease in the state in 1917, by totaling burial expenses for all deaths, treatment costs for all non-fatal cases and wage loss to patients and members of their families.

The Hughes health district bill, pending in the legislature, will, if passed, bring about the diversion of health expenditures into preventive channels, by requiring each county and each city to employ a competent health officer, trained in his work and devoting his entire time to the office. He is to be appointed through civil service examination and is to co-operate with the State Department of Health in carrying on a progressive campaign of disease prevention. At present each municipality and each township constitutes a separate health district and has its own health officer. Salaries are necessarily so small in most instances that competent men can not be obtained.

Health officials confidently predict that the passage of the health district measure will within five years reduce disease prevalence far more than enough to repay the money expended. Almost immediate results are expected in regard to smallpox, typhoid fever, diphtheria, whooping cough, measles, scarlet fever and the diseases which cause 10 per cent of Ohio's babies to die before reaching their first birthday anniversary.

BEWARE OF THE BARBERRY SHRUB

"March is the month in which the common barberry must be removed," said the County Agent this morning. "Unless it is grubbed up before the leaves come out there will be danger from the black stem rust on wheat."

"If there is any barberry left in the county this year, after our severe experience with black stem rust last year, it should be removed by order of a public statute," he said. "There is at present no law to provide for its removal. But practically every one so far visited who has barberry is perfectly willing to take it out."

"In April, after the leaves of the barberry appear, the stem rust goes from old wheat stubble on to the barberry leaves. Later on, after these spores germinate they are carried to growing wheat where they cause the black stem rust. Unless we get the barberry bushes out before that time, we might as well leave them in for another year."

The county agent has made a search for barberry over the county and found a number of shrubs in the vicinity of outbreaks of the rust last year. But it has been impossible for him to find all of the barberry bushes in the county. If you aren't quite certain whether shrubs you have are dangerous forms of the common barberry, call up Mr. Prince, or bring a sample twig of the shrub to his office in the post office building, and he will be glad to help you out.

A Practical Test.

A shrewd old countryman was being questioned by the vicar on his religious tenets. He had heard the old man was a Baptist, and although he had nothing to say against the belief of this sect he implied that perhaps the established church was the better road to salvation. The old man, after listening to the vicar's fears on his behalf, said: "From this village to the market town there are three roads. There's the straight road along the valley, the old coach road over the hills and the main road running alongside the park wall. When I get my wheat to the market town they don't say to me, 'Hullo, John, which road did you come by?' but 'What's your wheat like?'"

Start Cheerfulness Within.

Cheerfulness is hard work when it has to soak in from the outside. A person may be surrounded by innumerable blessings and yet wear a gloomy face, and keep a sullen heart, for it takes a long time for these external benefits to filter through to the springs of life and change the bitter waters to sweet. Cheerfulness, to be easy and natural and spontaneous, must start inside. Inborn good cheer will transform all our surroundings much more readily than our external blessings can transform our outlook on life.

Valuable Gems.

HOW ABOUT YOUR TAXES, MR. AMERICAN

Uncle Sam's new revenue bill is a law; it's provisions operative. Under them, whether you have discovered it yet or not, you are making your unrecoverable contribution to the cost of the world war. And you can't escape.

This is a good time to consider this question of taxes.

How about them, anyway, Mr. American? Do you find them high enough?

Are you paying enough upon the few little luxuries you can afford? Is the income tax cutting sufficiently into your earnings? Is there any little place where you feel that you should be paying more?

And do you prefer paying taxes, directly or indirectly, to cashing Liberty Bond coupons?

Mr. American you will have to do the one or the other.

If the Victory-Liberty Loan doesn't produce the expected amount there remains but one other way in which Uncle Sam may get it.

Taxation. And if this revenue bill and this Victory-Liberty loan fail to produce a fund sufficient to permit Uncle Sam to clean up the war expense balance, Congress will simply have to increase the taxes.

In other words if you will not lend Uncle Sam your money he will take it away from you in a manner you cannot resent.

For he must have the cash. He needs it to square accounts. To clean off the war slate. To finish the job.

And it is altogether for you to say which way he shall get it.

All you lend him will be paid back with interest.

What you pay in taxes is a total loss to you.

The answer should be easy.

MAJOR JORN C. WURM RESIGNS AS MILITARY INSTRUCTOR AT HOME

After serving nearly eight years as instructor in military tactics at the Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home, Major John C. Wurm has tendered his resignation, to become effective April 1. He will enter the restaurant-cafeteria business at Bellevue, O.

Major Wurm, whose home was at Sandusky, succeeded Major McAaron as military instructor at the Home, when the latter took a position as military man at a western university. They were "buddies," in the Spanish-American war, serving through the Cuba campaign, and at that time a lasting friendship was established.

Keeping pace with the military changes and innovations, Major Wurm has kept the training of the battalion at the Home up-to-date, and it is one of the best trained cadet bodies in Ohio. Officials at the Home regret to part with Major Wurm, and as yet no action has been taken to appoint his successor. Major and Mrs. Wurm and their two charming little children, Urban and Gladys, are interesting members of the official family at the institution, and their departure from the Home is a source of regret to employees and children alike, a most cordial relation existing among them.

The military man at the Home has many duties aside from that of merely instructing the boys in military tactics, and the selection of a successor to Major Wurm is a matter which will require considerable time.

Nervousness and Headaches Caused by Acid-Stomach

There is a much closer connection between the stomach and brain than most people imagine. It is because of this close connection that indigestion, belching, sour, gassy stomach and other stomach miseries—all of which are sure signs of acid stomach—are so often followed by severe attacks of blinding, splitting headaches.

Nervousness, sleeplessness, irritability, mental depression, melancholia and many other disorders which affect the brain can also nearly always be traced to the same source—acid-stomach.

So often you hear people say "I am so nervous I think I'll fly to pieces," or "It seems I never get a good night's sleep any more, my nerves are all on edge." Little do they dream that acid stomach is the direct cause of their troubles because very often there are no pains in the stomach at all. So you see, you can't always judge an acid-stomach condition by the way your stomach, itself, feels.

If you are weak, nervous, unfit—if you are not up to your old time form—if you lack your accustomed enthusiasm, energy and pep—make this test and see if it isn't acid-stomach that is holding you back—robbing you of your health, strength and vigor. Get a big box of EATONIC—the wonderful modern medicine that so quickly puts an acid stomach to rights. It is in the form of pleasant tasting tablets that you eat like a bit of candy. EATONIC rids the stomach of excess acid. Brings instant relief from indigestion, heartburn, sour belching, food repelling, bloating and gas and makes the stomach cool, pure, sweet and comfortable.

Dentists warn us against the bad effects of acid mouth, pointing out that the acid eats through the enamel of the teeth, causing them to decay. You can easily imagine then the amount of damage excess acid will cause to the delicate organization of the stomach!

Thousands of people are using EATONIC and the results obtained are so remarkable as to be almost unbelievable. Yet their letters of gratitude, many of which are received daily, prove absolutely that EATONIC does all and even more than we claim. The medical profession, too, recognizes the great value of this wonderful remedy. A learned Michigan doctor wrote recently: "I have had such wonderful success with EATONIC that I want every one to know how quickly it will neutralize the acidity of the stomach (acid-stomach) and the stomach will soon be sweet and normal again, and the sick man well and happy once more."

So be sure to get a big box of EATONIC from your druggist today. If it fails in any way to give you the kind of satisfaction you want, take it back—he will refund your money. He doesn't want one penny of your money unless EATONIC helps you.

STRANGE INFLUENCE HOVERS OVER PLAY "INVISIBLE FOE"

New York, March 20.—Spiritualists in England and America are watching with keen interest the extraordinary and unique demonstration of spiritualistic influences which are said to have been responsible for the success of the play, "The Invisible Foe," now playing at the Harris Theatre here. Hereward Carrington, a well-known American psychic research authority, is among those who maintain that "The Invisible Foe" is being supported by the spirits.

The play, which has also been produced in London, concerns information transmitted by the spirit of a dead man for the unraveling of crime committed before his death. He alone has the key. When the play reached New York practically every theatrical dramatic critic condemned it in unmeasured terms. The critics are measured terms. The critics are measured terms. The critics are measured terms.

In spite of the critics the play picked up steadily and quickly became one of the greatest successes of the year. Spiritualists, in explaining this, said that the throngs were drawn to the theatre by the spirits of departed friends and relatives. One of the odd features in connection with the play's successful run was the patronage bestowed by returning soldiers and sailors. Along Broadway it is a generally recognized fact that this is practically the only play that the fighting men are paying money to see.

When the subject was mentioned to Bartley Cushing, the famous American producer who staged "The Invisible Foe," he declared that there was no doubt in his mind as to the influences hovering over the play. Even while the play was in rehearsal, he said, the spiritualistic power was in operation. "I am as hard-headed and as practical as the average person concerned with producing plays," said Cushing, "and I certainly had no interest in Spiritualism before putting on 'The Invisible Foe.' But I have changed my views. I positively affirm that spiritualistic assistance was given us in making the play ready for the public. I repeatedly felt strange influences guiding me and directing me in my efforts to secure certain novel effects. Even the actors felt these influences. I cannot explain it, but I think every body connected with the play felt that extramundane influences were hovering over the Harris Theatre. Miss Flora MacDonald, who, in the play, receives the message from the spirit which gives the clue to the real criminal, has become so converted that she has received a message from her who died last year. As for myself, I am beginning a complete study of spiritualism."

Children's Logic.

Bananas should not be put into a refrigerator. They should never be allowed to get colder than 60 degrees. A chill turns bananas black and prevents proper ripening.

RINGGOLD, GEORGIA, MAN WRITES

A thankful letter about the benefits received from using Sulphur Tablets. Its effects are like grandmother's remedy of sulphur, cream of tartar and molasses. But this consists of sulphur, cream of tartar and hebs, in a sugar-coated tablet, easy and pleasant to use, for bad blood, stomach, liver and bowel disorders.

Mr. John M. Plemmons, Ringgold, Georgia, writes: "I had an awful bad case of stomach trouble and constipation, and had the service of a specialist with only temporary relief. I saw an advertisement of Sulphur Tablets and began using them, and in a short time noted very good results, and I further used them, and at this time am perfectly well as far as I can tell. I don't recommend anything unless I receive some good results. Some friends use them and they also note good results, etc." Druggists sell Sulphur Tablets everywhere. ### AGREE SPIRITUALLY BUT DISAGREE ON MATERIAL THINGS

San Francisco, March 20.—George Joseph Taylor, who knows where heaven is, and who is about to tell the world its exact location in a book, is seeking a divorce from Marie Zentgraf Taylor, his million dollar New York bride.

After less than a year of married life Mrs. Taylor has returned to her Riverside Drive home in New York, where she will continue studying spiritual subjects and preparing lectures.

So long as the two lived in the spiritual world, in which they were engrossed, they were happy together, Taylor said. But when they came down to material things they learned they were not suited.

FRESHMEN OUTWIT UPPER CLASS MEN

Antioch college Freshmen outwitted upper classmen who attempted to overpower them and steal a feast which the boys and girls had prepared for themselves in the girls dorm, Monday night.

When one of the Freshmen left the dorm to procure something from one of the rooms, he was attacked by upper classmen, and bound hand and foot. The assaulting party then attempted to force entrance to the dormitory where the feast was in progress, and boys and girls joined in the struggle to keep them out. Finally the attacking party was driven back in defeat, and the Freshmen carried their feast to a home in the village, where they ate it in peace.

To Get Cash From Bank Vaults.

An ambitious young Yeggman once approached a famous safe cracker in the penitentiary where both were sojourning. The young man was about to leave prison and wanted to know a sure method of getting money from a bank's vault.

"Go," said the famous safeblower, "to your home town. Get a job. Visit the bank every Saturday evening and deposit a small amount of your week's wages. Thus you will gain the confidence of the bank officials and people in general. Get a better job as soon as you can. Continue your weekly visits. In time you'll find yourself universally trusted."

"And then?" the young yeggman asked expectantly.

"Then," the wise old crook answered, "you will be drawing interest out of the bank vault; and that is the only sure and safe method of getting money from such a place."

System Brings Results.

It's not necessary to become a recluse to gain fitness. The very fact that you grow makes present tasks easy. That gives additional time that can be applied in still greater attainments. Self-mastery begets self-confidence that reacts again in greater self-mastery. And that leads to the mastery of other things. Each new attainment helps to make work easier. The wise man knows he must have recreation and diversion so he does not become a grind. He just systematizes his time and marshals his resources in such a way as to startle the careless worker. The result is continued growth in efficiency. Every day brings added satisfaction, for there is joy in achievement.—Exchange.

Glazing Soles of Shoes.

Shoe soles that are occasionally glazed have exceptional wearing qualities, and it was by this process that our grandparents made a single pair of shoes last an entire season, without resoling. A thin varnish should be used, two coats of it being applied the first time and only a single coat after that. Once a fortnight is often enough to glaze the soles, and it can be done either on new or old shoes.

CENTRAL GARAGE TO BE ENLARGED BY LARGE ADDITION

The enlargement of the building of the Central Garage and Taxi Company on South Detroit street by the addition of a new building adjoining it in the rear will be started soon as a result of the acquisition of considerable land in the rear of the building by P. H. Flynn, who owns the property, which will enable the extension to be made.

Mr. Flynn has just completed the purchase of a portion of the rear of the lot at the home of Miss Katherine Harned, and the purchase of the entire house and lot of John Huston both of them on East third street. He has resold the Huston property however, to George Pillsbury, retaining only a sufficient footage on the rear to allow him a sixty-foot wide lot from Detroit street back. By the acquisition of the new property Mr. Flynn's lot is now 198 feet deep with a 60 foot frontage on Detroit street.

The two story brick building now occupied by the Garage Company, which is operated by George Baldner, will be remodeled and a brick building 60 by 130 feet in length, will be built adjoining it on the rear. The new addition will be built with two stories half of the way back and one story the rest of the way.

It is the plan of the garage company to extend its business and the new floor space was necessary. Under the plans, which are now being prepared by Architect Harley W. Owens, the old building which is at present occupied, will be used entirely as a salesroom for accessories. It is also rumored that the company will acquire one of more automobile agencies and this room will be used as a salesroom for the new cars. The floor space provided by the new addition will be used for storage room for machines and the second floor will be entirely a repair room. A new elevator will be installed to lift the machines to the second story.

The garage is in an ideal location, being on Detroit street only a square and a half from the court house and with the advantage of an alley on one side. It is promised by Mr. Flynn that the garage will have up-to-date and commodious quarters when the new addition is built.

Peat Used in Making Fertilizers. Italian peat too low in fuel value to be used for heating is being utilized in the manufacture of nitrogen fertilizers.

ANSWER THESE QUESTIONS

Mr. Farmer, have you fields on which you fail to grow clover? If seed you sow fails to grow, what is the matter? Can you afford to sow seed worth $25 a bushel on a field that failed to grow clover? It is money-waste to sow seed in sour dirt. If clover refuse to grow on acid soil once, it will never grow until limestone has sweetened that soil.

Agricultural Limestone is the sugar that insures clover crop. It resurrects soil. Limestone is cheapest sure-cure-medicine for the old farm. It helps every crop. It insures wages and profit. Use it now. adv

Frenchman Given Honor.

The first white man, as far as can be determined, to discover petroleum in America was Joseph de la Roche D'Aillon, a French missionary who speaks of his discovery in a letter written 189 years ago. He had crossed the Niagara river and made his way southward through western New York into northern Pennsylvania, where he found a spring from which oil flowed. The oil was highly esteemed by the Indians for medicinal uses. This old spring was probably identical with one described by the Massachusetts Magazine in 1789, which speaks of "a creek called Oil creek, which issues from a spring, on the top of which floats an oil similar to that called Barbados tar, and from which one may gather several gallons a day." The waters of this spring were supposed to give great relief from rheumatism and to possess many other healing qualities.

The Tsetse Fly.

The dreaded "tsetse fly" (pronounced tset-se, accent on first syllable, whose vowel e has short sound, as in set) is an African gadfly, about the size of a housefly. The symptoms of its victim are at first those of a severe cold. The eyes, nose and mouth begin to "run," the body then swells while emaciation sets in, although not always fatal. The harm done is found to be not the result of poison from the fly itself, but communication to the blood of its victim of a microscopic parasite similar to that of Texas fever which it has received from a diseased animal. Animals or persons that recover are usually immune. The great dread of this fly formerly entertained has proved to be unjustified.

"She was a very foolish girl. A diamond ring is too rich for anybody's digestion."

FRANCIS ORR, FORMERLY OF XENIA IS WITH THE ARMY OF OCCUPATION

The many friends of Francis Orr, former well known young Xenian, who is now with the American army of occupation in Germany, will be much interested in the following letter to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Orr of Kansas City:

Quint, Germany,
Sunday, February 16, 1919.

Dear Folks:—

Since last writing you one week ago I have been to the so-called "Gay Paree" and returned. It was like this. Last Sunday the Sergeant Major came in and asked me if I wanted to go to Paris. Right away I wanted to know if I had a fish wanted to swim or a bird to fly. I had to admit that I wanted to go so I started at 10:00 a. m. on Monday. Took a trolley from Ehrang to Trier. At Trier I took a U. S. Troop train and went down thru Luxembourg City, Metz to Toul. At Toul I took a train to Paris. It was crowded with civilians and soldiers and I stood up all night, arriving at Paris at 9:00 a. m. next morning. That is what you call a one night stand. Going to Paris from Toul I passed thru Bar-le-Duc and Chateau Thierry and saw where the drive started going toward Germany. Upon arrival I had to spend some time getting my pass checked up and after walking around for awhile took a subway to the Y. M. C. A. Hotel. I slept that night.

Next day I took a Y. M. C. A. truck and started out for a rubber neck trip around Paris. First went to Place de la Republique, went on to Place de Bastille, passed the

Cured His RUPTURE

I was badly ruptured while lifting a trunk several years ago. Doctors said my only hope of cure was an operation. They said I had no good chance. I finally got hold of something that quickly and completely cured me. Years have passed and the rupture has never returned, although I am doing hard work as a carpenter. There was no operation, no loss of time, no trouble. I have nothing to do, but will give full information about how you may find a complete cure without operation, if you write to me, Eugene M. COLLEGE STUDENTS LEARN AVIATION

New York, March 20.—Paving the way for future commercial aerial activities and at the same time making ready an air force for military needs, the Division of Military Aeronautics has arranged a training program for college students, which will not interfere with their prescribed college courses but will, at the end of three years, turn them out prepared for commercial, sport or military aviation duties.

The plan, as announced by the War Department, in connection with its exhibit at the aeronautical exposition here, permits the college students to absorb the courses previously included in the curricula of the ground schools while working for his degree.

The assumption of the War Department is that aviators must be young men, and they point to the experience of the war to prove their point. For this reason, they say, there must be a constant stream of candidates going through the schools.

The government's detailed plan as explained at the aeronautical exposition, by Colonel B. E. Castle, formerly of the control board, Division of Military Aeronautics, is as follows:

"We are proceeding on the assumption that aviators will become superannuated more rapidly than any other kind of officer, so that it is imperative that the supply of trained personnel be kept up. In view of the strength of the air service at the cessation of hostilities and in view of the depreciation among our reserve officers of not less than ten per cent a year, it is estimated that we must draw about 1,000 pilots, 850 airplane and balloon observers, and 100 engineer officers every year.

"In order not to take the better part of a year of a man's time to train him as a pilot or observer, the machinery of the Reserve Officers' Training Corps was chosen as most likely to bring about desired results.

"In outline, the plan is to give the equivalent of the work formerly done in the ground schools exclusive of military practice—that is, airplanes, engines, gunnery, navigation, maps, infantry and artillery co-operation, and signalling—at the college and universities during the college year and give flying and military training during the six weeks summer camps held at northern flying fields.

"Everything possible will be done to cultivate a high esprit de corps among the candidates by general lectures on the achievements of air service and by the fostering of sports and games as a part of the curriculum.

How Chinaman Drinks Tea.
The Chinaman in preparing tea places a pinch of leaves in a Chinese teacup, which is without a handle, pours boiling water over them and places the cover on the cup. In a few seconds the tea is ready for drinking; the covered cup is raised to the mouth, and with the fingers of the hand holding the cup, the lid is moved just sufficiently to permit the liquid to flow into the mouth as the cup is tilted.

Formalin for Ingrowing Toenail.
Sulley advises application of a solution of formaldehyde (formalin) for the relief of ingrowing toenail. A pledget of cotton wet with formalin is swabbed over the granulations once every day. The pain is relieved almost immediately, the inflammation is rapidly reduced and the cure is practically complete in four or five days.—Journal de Medecine et de Chirurgie Practiques.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No gripping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth" now and then—a bad breath—a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—and are constipated, you'll find quick, sure and only pleasant results from one or two little Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take one or two every night just to keep right. Try them. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

The average length of life is greater in Norway than in any other country. This is attributed to the fact that the temperature is cool and uniform throughout the year.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, whooping cough, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made for three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.
